Mi. Rose, from a select Committee, reported a bill, which provides for an entire re-organization of the University system of the state, and for distributing the fund among all Colleges in the state, which report that they are legally chartered, fally organized with a Faculty, having given instruction in a regular course for at least 4 months, with the title to their property clear, and the instructions not acctarian. The billalso prevides for setting spart one tenth of the income of the school fund for academies of the state. Mr. Rose said that the law of the state con templates branches to the University, and a disribution to the scadenies. Ho thought that Hoto: portion of the fund could be profitably to discoved of. He had before him the Report of the Chancellor, showing that there were but 10 of alon: in the full cohege course, and he thought the fund might be more usefully appropriated. Some further discussion passed between Messri Vitas and Rose,—who, "it is instructive to obsaire," were both elected Regents a few days since-but the bill went into the general file. The Temperance Bill was received from the Senate, and the veneral desire spanned to ha to take the vote upon the substitute. The Olerk had commenced reading it, when Mr. Hull entered the hall, and said that he should delate the bill. Mr. Gary moved to suspend the prohibiting detate. But Mr. Hell now raised a friveions point of order, and a discussion followed. but there was a sufficient mass raised to prevent action upon the bill to-day. The vote for susneeding the rules was 36 to 24,-not two thirds The Speaker laid before the House & communication from A. Proudfit, the Contractor for the Lanstic Asylum, making a proposition to compromise matters. He proposes now to build the main building and one wing on each side, for $155,000, and 2 more langitudinal and trausverse wings on each side, for $85,000 more, making $240,000 ; or to do the work as cheap as materials and work can be had and scaupt a prefit of 15 per cent upon the job. The contractor's earnest desire to save litigation des, prompts him to this ; it does. Until to-day, and since this communication, I have not heard the Contractor blanced particularly for his part of the general transaction, it being looked upon purely as matter of business. Now, however, there seems o he a general concurrence of all the outside powrs to prevent the Report of the Investigating Committee. That Report, bowever, will doubt-

Leaving New York-The Hermann-A gale as a-Arrival at Southampton-Its app. Bifect of the War.

SOUTHAMPTON, (Fing.) Feb. 14. With a view of taking a rapid glance at th Id world and noting its institutions, its antiquitice its natural curiosities, its fine sets and the manners and customs of its people. I started or manners and customs of its people. I started on serve during the country year. There was a very the 27th rile, on the Steamship Hermann, bothed dull turn out of the Members, as the contest for By Mr Hadley, of D. A. J. Upham, to vacate for Southampton and Bremen. This, with the We shington, was put on this line in pursuance of the first act of Congress establishing Ocean Mail services. She makes monthly trips, and this is the sixty-seventh time she has crossed the Atlancia. She is considered very safe, and although the has a powerful double evlipdrical engine i slow. She is in all her appointments, officered and arranged with a view to safety and comfort Sirco the late disaster on the Arctic, new and additional safeguards have been added to all the Ocean Steamers, such as fog and alarm bells, life s.ts and provisions in the same, &c. From inquiry and observation I am inclined it the belief that the risk of life is far greater or our Western Linkes than on the Atlantic. Fact show for themselves. With this trip, the Her. mean will have sailed, within the last six years up vards of 250,000 miles, without a single acci-Assembly:

Mr. Viles moved to dispense with the reading of the Januaria, and that the New Hampshire fale to Chicago, and that our beats make twelve election returns be read. The first branch of the tries a year, it would take ten years and upwards to perform the same distance. Yet unfortunate ly, we have few, if any such facts to record with out loss of life, and generally the best too. The rescond are obvious: On the negatithere is: much greater degree of discipline among the officure and crow. At precisely 12 Me there is an entire change among all, from the mates down being four hours off and four on. At half pas 12 and at each subsequent half hour, belle are mag from two large bells in either and of the ship, until the number reaches eight, when again a change takes place. During the night a wetch is dationed, who have to report to the officer on deck every two hours. Again, the generation of steam from the use of coal is more regular and there cannot be so much danger from collapses and explusions. Therefore for these and many other reasons, but particularly on account of greater system and vigilance, I think that people generally entertain an erroneous opinion in refer-questly do not venture abroad.

But let not the render imagine that the skies are always fair and the water smooth. About), ik on the first day after we left New York the officers were seen looking at the sky very attenuncly. Low, scudding, vaporish clouds were seen-the wind was gradually rising from the a uth east, and a distant murrauring of the watees indicated an approaching gale. The sailing master, with his trumpet, from the barricans dick shouted his orders, and then were seen men terrying up and taking in the canvess. At this time of twilight they looked like so many spiders spinning their webs in the dome of some wast cathedral. But in a few minutes the great cross-beams came down—the fore, main and n izzen-maste were lowered and every ray of earl closely furled. The cannon were then drawn back from the port-boles and firmly lushed dow: The great anchors were each asparately taken agant, foiled up in the centre of the ship and firmly chained. Every moveable thing lastly was taken care of. By this time what was first a mourning voice had changed to that of a tempest, and made most uncarthly music in the broads -- the " face of the great deep" was changed to frowning billows and the ship began to roll nd plunge. The wind continued to increase all right, and in the morning, in awe, grandour and sublimity no esens in nature could exceed it. By reat perseverance I gained the deck. The Herriunn was slowly moving, but with great labor, Now a see would strike her on the larboard side and she would careen over, until her great painted pipes almost dipped water-again another vave from another quarter gives her an opposite low, and she goes as far the other way-but stated that he was not a caudidate for re-election here is an awful chasm in front-it seems as if and hoped that no Fireman would vote for him an acre of the water had been suddenly removed lear to the bottom of the ocean-down she retiring Chief Engineer. ler, and we all perish? No; the chasm is filled up by the next wave, and slowly she rises, and with every timber creaking, she trembles a mocent on the summit preparatory to taking anothor plunge... During the long night women had seen screeching, and strong, brave men writhing storm continued for estrip three days. Such fa s winter passage, and such is Ocean life, After we left New York, notwithstanding the vast amount of commerce and the great number of vessels daily reaching her barbor from all points it, we saw not a single sail for twelve long days propelled them. How beautifully Byron has alluded to this fact in Childe Harold: under to this fact in United Harous.

"Railon, thus dark and deep blue Grean-Boli!
The thousand facts aware over thee in vain:
Man marks the each with rain-blu control is on with the above; thou the water plain.
The wreaks are all thy deed, are dolk rounds.
A sladow of man's ravegy.

After a long and tedious voyage of seventeen

-their traces were all effeced by the waves that lays we reached this city, and the heart of even Delumbus himself was not made more glad than we were when we first saw land.

The approach to Southampton is very much like that of New York, the city being situated on a neck of land, fronted by a large, capacion bay, called "Southampton Water," and on each side branches of the same, which almost enclose the city. In front, in the distance at the south, in seen the lale of Wight, and on all the other wider fine country residences, smiling villages with their high steeple churches, peering above the trees, bills and valleys, pastures and meadows.

The city contains a population of 40,000, and is growing, I should judge, rapidly. It is one of the few good scaport towns this country has on its autire eastern side, from Landa Rad to the During the session in Committee of the whole. Tweed, and from that fact it will be built up by its rapidly increased commerce. The natura harlior is a very good one, with safe unchorage but in addition there is already constructed a small but very convenient inner harbor. All the American lines of steamers which come to the eastern English shore, France, and the German Ocean have wherest and offices here. From here also the Oriental line of steamers start for all ports on the Meditorrasean. It is also the termina of two important Railroads, one to London and the other to Dorchester. From the former city it is eighty miles, taking only three hours running

Although there are few Americans here, yet there is apparently as friendly a feeling existing towards us as if they all bulouged on the other Observer of Madicov, Fond du Lac, Lake Mich-side of the Atlantic. All this is owing to the great commercial enterprises of some of our busi ness men and the establishment of Ocean Mail service on the part of our Government. It has made men acquainted with each other in both bemuphares, and taught them their interests were mutical—a common advancement in all that per-tains to human happiness and greatness. When Commodore Vanderbilt visited this place in 1853 with his apleudid steamer, the North Star, the citizens on insess paid him all the honors they. would their own sovereign -not in any service manner either, but in that true zealons public spirit that should over be rendered to untiring and successful perseverance, great skill and true

The great heart of Hogland throbs to its core, on account of the continued delays of the war, the death of her brave frien and the ehormous expense it will bring upon her people. I took occasion to conveyes with saveral upon this subject; not only rabong the higher, but the middle and lower working classes. They all ecemed to understand it and fell that it was a sore subject; a dilemma into which they were placed and from which they have no idea how they can be autificated. Taxes and rates of all descriptions, now begin to be felt service, by all classes. One individual told me that his taxes, on a fair valuation, amounted to upwards of twenty five per cent. He concluded his necessarie with a sigh, by saying that as for him he saw but one way left. nobility of beart. saying that as for bim he are but one way left, and that was to sell what he had gof studyesh of for America. And in conclusion premiting to invary, there is no race of men more stacked to home than a true hearted Etiton.

THE OFFICE OF POLICE JUSTICE-Yesterday the Chancellor qualified as Police Justice of the Chy of Milwauken for the fifth time. On April 12th, 1848, the present incumbent was appointed by the Common Council, having John L. Demn Esq., as opposing candidate, but one vote of the Council deciding the appointment; Mr. Doran received 7 votes and Mr. Walworth 8 votes. Siece then Mr. Walworth has been elected without an opposing candidate three times, in '51, '53 and 55, thus having held the office of Police Justice seven years in succession and elected at present for two years in future. We have always confor two years in future. We have always considered the office of Police Justice of this city, as the most important one in the city, said we might say of as much importance to the county as any other in it; and the fact that it has been hold for seven years in succession by one man, who has been elected three times without opposition, after a previous encession of two terms, tells us that its duties have been fulfilled with justice and integrity, and without a shadow of favor. The upsetting of a wagon in the harvest field, gave to the State of New York the last and ablest of her Chancellors; whether the first appointment of the Chancellor in this city was caused by an accident or not we have no means of the American will alleutly see perpettacaused by an accident or not we have no means of knowing, but with some opportunity of judging the man, we are of the opinion that he is too well-balanced, both mentally and physically, to be carsized, or turned from his course of duty.

nies History.

Our Government has atood saventy years, very safely, without the law which the Journal would safely, without the law which the Journal would persuade use in own necessary to its existence. Washington and his or adjuncts? inserted no such provision when they tramedathe Federal Constitution. On the contray, they justously guarded the tights of the Courts, the Legislatures, and the citizens of the individual States, If they had not, the Union would not have lasted till now. More than that—if such a provision had been in the Constitution, the Union could not even have been formed.

When that individual States for their adoption, in 1387, the chief and indeed almost the only ground of objection to it, even the lack of sufficient guaranties of State and personal Rights. Bight of the thirteen States positively refused to agree to it, unless such guaranties should be gihe sum of $250 to keep the peace for two

FOR IGN COURESPONDENCE OF THE SENTINEL. RAMBLES IN EUROPE-No. L.

Leaving New York—The Hermann—A cale at Sa—Arrival at Southampton—Its appearance Effect of the War. SOUTHAMPTON, (Eng.) Feb. 14. With a view of taking a rapid glance at the Id world and noting its institutions, its antiquitice its natural corinsition, its fine are and the mainers and customs of its people, I started on the 27th ule, on the Steamship Aermans, baput for Southampton and Bremen. This, with the We shington, was put on this line in pursuance the first act of Congress establishing Ocean Mail savise. She makes mentaly trips, and this is the sixty-seventh time she has crossed the At-She is considered very sale, and although she has a powerful double cylindrical engine, slow. Sho is in all her appointments, office and arranged with a view to safely and comfort. Sir co the late disaster on the Arctic, now and addilional safeguards have been added to all the Ocean Stramers, such as fog and shrm bells, life bon to and provisions in the same, &c.

From inquiry and observation I am inclined to the belief that the risk of life is far greater on our Western Inden than on the Atlantic. Facis show for themselves. With this trip, the Herup vards of 250,000 miles, without a single acciant. Allowing it to be 1,000 miles from Buffalo to Chicago, and that our boats make twelve tri is a year, it would take ten years and apwards to perform the same distance. Yet unfortunately, we have few, if any such facts to record withour less of life, and generally the boat too. The ressons are obvious: On the press there is: much greater degree of discipline among the officure and crew. At precisely 12 Me there is an mire change among all, from the mates down. bring four hours off and four on. At balf past 12 and at each subsequent half hour, bells are rang from two large bells in either end of the thip, natil the number reaches eight, when again a change takes place. During the night a wetch is talioned, who have to roport to the officer on deck every two hours. Again, the generation of sleam from the use of coal is more regular and and explosions. Therefore for these and man other reasons, but perticularly on account of greater system and vigilance, I think that people generally entertain an orroneous opinion in reference to this method of travelling and conse neatly do not venture abmad. But let not the reader imagine that the skies

re always, fair and the water smooth. About h ric on the first day after we left New York the afficers were seen looking at the sky very attentively. Low, sendding, vaporish clouds were cen-the wind was gradually rising from the south-east, and a distant magnaring of the waters indicated an approaching gale. The sailing master, with his trumpet, from the harrican dick shouted his orders, and then were seen men serrying up and taking in the convess. At this time of twilight they looked like so many spiders spinning their, webs in the dome of some Sept. 21 months, with the title to their property clear, and vist cathedral. But in a few misutes the great cross-beams come down-the foro, main and n izzon-masta were lowered and every rag of sail losely furled. The cunnon were then drawn ack from the port-holes and firmly lushed down The great anchors were each asparately take part, foiled up in the centre of the ship and ome portion of the fund could be profitably so firmly chained. Every reoverable thing lastly was taken care of. By this time what was first a mourning voice had changed to that of a temdone in the full college course, and he thought | past, and made most uncarthly music in the rouds-the " face of the great deep" was change ed to frowning billows and the ship began to roll Vilus and Rose,-who, "it is instructive to ob- and plunge. The wind continued to incresse all ight, and in the morning, in awe, grandeur and ablimity no seene in nature could exceed it. By rest perseverance I gained the deck. The Her ciunn was slowly moving, but with great labor ow a sea would strike her on the larboard side nd she would exceen over, until her great paintd pipes almost dipped water-sgain another rave from another quarter gives her an opposite low, and she goes as far the other way-hut here is an awful chasm in front-it seems as if on acre of the water had been auddenly removed lear to the bottom of the ocean-down she patelus, bead foremost -- great God ! will she formup by the next wave, and slowly she rises, and rith every timber crooking, she trembles a moneut on the summit preparatory to taking anothor plunge... During the long night women had been sereeching, and strong, brave men writhing with the most nauseating of all sickness. This storm continued for pearly three days. Such fe

a winter passage, and such is Quean life, After we left New York, notwithstanding the ast amount of commerce and the great number of vessels daily reaching her harbor from all points t, we saw but a single sail for twelve long days -their traces were all effeced by the waves that ropelled them. How beautifully Byron has aluded to this fact in Childe Harold;

A shadow of man's ravegy.

After a long and tedious royage of seventee days we reached this city, and the heart of even Columbus himself was not made more glad than we were when we first saw land.

The approach to Southampton is very mucl like that of Now York, the city being situated on a neck of land, fronted by a large, capacions bay, called "Southampton Water," and on sac side branches of the same, which almost enclose seen the lale of Wight, and on all the other sider fine country residences, smiling villages with their high steeple churches, peering above the trees, hills and valleys; pastures and meadows.

The city contains a population of 40,600, and is growing, I should judge, rapidly. It is one of the few good seaport towns this country has on its outire centern side, from Landa Rad to the Tweed, and from that fact it will be built up by its rapidly increased commerce. The natural hartor is a very good one, with safe anchorage but in addition there is already constructed a small but very convenient inner harbor. All the American lines of steamers which come to the eastern English shore, France, and the German Ocean bays wheres and offices here. From here also the Oriental line of eleamers start for all ports on the Mediterrasean. It is also the terminus of two important Railroads, one to London and the other to Dorchester. From the former city it is eighty miles, taking only three hours running

Although there are few Americans here, yet there is apparently as friendly a feeling existing towards us as if they all belonged on the other side of the Atlantic. All this is owing to the great commercial enterprises of some of our business men and the establishment of Ocean Mail service on the part of our Government. It has made mon acquainted with each other in both bemispheres, and taught them their interests were mutual - common advancement in all that pertains to human happiness and greatness. When Cotomodore Vanderbilt visited this place in 1853 with his aplendid steamer, the North Star, the citizens en masse paid him all the honors they would their own sovereign -not in any service manner either, but in that true zealons public spirit that should over be rendered to untiring and successful perseverance, great skill and true nebility of heart.

The great heart of Hogland throbs to its core, on account of the continued delays of the war, the death of her brave fren and the shormons expense it will bring upon her people. I took occasion to conveyse with several upon this subject; not only among the higher, but the middle and lower working classes. They all seemed to understand it and felt that it was a one subject; a dileama into which they were placed and from which they have no idea how they can be extricated. Taxes unid rates of all descriptions, now begin to be felt severally by all classes. One individual told me that his marse, on a fair valuation, amounted to upwark of twenty five per cank. He concluded his amarks with a sigh, by saying that as for him he saw but one way left, and that was to sell whill me had got and year to remark, there is no race of men more settled to home than a true hearted Briton.

CITY MATTEMS. MILWAUKER FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Annual Election of Officers. Pursuant to public notice, the Members of th companies, composing the Milwaukes Fire Department, assembled at Young's Ballon Monday evening, the 19th instant, to elect a Chief Englneer, three Assists ate and ten Fire Wardens to serve during the ensuing year. There was a very full turn out of the Members, as the contest for Chief Engineer promised to be a close one; and searly four hundred Firemen were to attendance duling the evening. The meeting was called to order at half past 7 o'clock, by the Chief Engineer, John S. Fillmonn, Esq., who stated that before proceeding to the election, he should be before the Department a series of resolution dopted at a meeting of the Engineers, Firemer and Assistants, upon which they desired to take the sense of the Members generally. The following propositions were then submitted and unani nously adopted by the Department.

The Chief Engineer then took occasion to thank the Department for the cardial suppor they had given bim in years past, for the gener good feeling which has always prevailed toward him, while active as head of the Department, an stated that he was not a candidate for re-election and hoped that no Fireman would vote for him Three tremendous cheers were then given for the retiring Chief Engineer.

Mr. J. B. Smith then asked leave to make a few said that the present Chief Engineer had serve! long and faithfully in the Department, and we i esteemed and respected by all the members; was therefore fitting and proper that some lastin testimonial of that esteem should be presente! to him. With that view, and by the advice an ! direction of several prominent members of the Department, he had drawn up some resolution and asked for their consideration at the present time. the existence of our Chaished Union?

Should this question be answered in the affirmative, then by every liw, human and divine, we shall be justified in wresting it from Spain, if we shall be justified in wresting it from Spain, if we possess the power. And this upon the very same principle that would justify an individual is itaring down the burning house of his neighber if these were no other means of preventing the flames from destroying his own hone.

Under such circumstances, we ought neither to count the cost, nor regard the odds which Spain might enlist against us. We forbear to enter into the question whether the precent condition of the Island would justify such a measure. From the Alliany Evening Journal State and Personal Rights. The Journal of Commerce is exercised in spirit because the bill depriving the State Courts of a part of their jurisdiction, fell between the two Houses, and failed to become a Law. And and who looked as though he hadn't got all his cango,' named John Gerhardt, obtained a war untigainst Martin Hohl charging him with having threatened to assault anid complainant. The ridence of the complainant was that he and delimited the cample of the law, by discharging persons held in imprisonment under it, and held by virtue of decisions of the United States and the cample of the law, by discharging persons held in imprisonment under it, and held by virtue of decisions of the United States. This is practical nullification. This state of things, if established, reduces the Federal authority to a condition similar to that which existed under the strikes of Confederation, and annihilates the work of Washington and his considerable warrant. The calendary was discharged.

Thomas McIntyre, heretofore streeted for assault and hattery upon his wife, was discharged, and hattery upon his wife, was discharged, and hattery upon his wife, was discharged.

In its zeat to promote the execution of the law, by discharged, the calendary that the defendant in time, and animal animal response to allow its considerable of the law, by discharged the decisions of the law, by discharged the law, by discharged the decisions of the law, by discharged the decisions of the law, by discharged the law by discharged the law, by discharged the law by discharged In its zeal to promote the execution of the Slave Law, the Journal disregards fact and de-oles History. . Our Government has stood asventy years, very Our Government has stood awenty years, very asfely, without the law which the Journal would personale us is now necessary to its existence. "Washington and his co-adjutors" inserted no such provision when they tramedable Federal Constitution. On the contrary, they jealously guarded the rights of the Ocurts, the Legislatures, and the critizens of the individual States, If they had not, the Union would not have fasted till now. More than that—if such a provision had been in the Constitution, the Union could not even have been formed.

When that instrument was proposed by the Convantion to the saveral States for their adoption, in 1787, the chief and indeed almost the only ground of objection to it, was the lack of sufficient guaranties of State and personal Rights. Eight of the thritten States positively refused to agree to it, unless such guaranties should be gi-

A STRANGE THING. Faisshood in these days is not strongs. Imposition and fraud are not strangs. Rust honey and truth, especially in speculative business are wenderful. For his reason, Dr. A. L. Adasta Laves Baraan is fixing the gaze of those sands upon its sure, unvarying and surprisity effects in the removal of disease. It promises and laskits. It prointer execution in unison with nature's own efforts, and the capels the very impurities which, being retained generates discuse. This compound is considered by those who have used it the greatest medical discovery known Its praise is declared from the North the South, and from

While the representative of a family lives (although, through neglect to insure his property, he becomes bank raph.) he supports his family,) ut at his death, diecalse their means of support, unless be has saved them from want by minnurance on his life, which may be done by the payment of a small annual promium, the paym we which has not diminished his own worldly comfursaturing

Myoung, the sunusly symen will be light, and if in sur od with profits, the posity will be constantly growing more rabable, though the pressure at not increased Ciergyman and others who have a stated and regular sooms should ensure, welthin wing that, at theirdes their families may be left destitute,

Magengaged in mer tipe ex manufacturing pureui aver-raying and moost int teirisame, should senue.
The farmer who has still am rayage on his farm, should inser, at least to the extent of it, thereby onsiting his family to pay off the debtin case of his dust.
